

A TIME TO REMEMBER

Picking up the pieces on 19 September 1940 after dreadful bomb damage.

On a recent visit to John Lewis in Oxford Street I noticed the above poster on display. The original John Lewis departmental store was destroyed during the London Blitz, 1940.

Here is a photograph I captured in the Autumn sunshine of Barbara Hepworth's inspirational sculpture Winged Figure which was added to the facade of the rebuilt store in 1962.
