

PREBENDAL SERMON

Neil's next Prebendal sermon at St. Paul's Cathedral will be at 5pm on Friday 15th June.

What's a Prebendal sermon?

Well, there are about 29 Prebendaries of St. Paul's Cathedral. Neil was appointed in 2002, and this is his 5th sermon in the cathedral.

A prebend used to be a cute little finance-generating scheme back in the old days, but that is all over now! The title prebendary is offered by the Bishop to suitable clergy such as those who have made a long service to the church in the Diocese.

The duties of the Prebendary are few but pleasant. There is an annual sermon on a date agreed. Prebendaries become honorary members of the College of Canons and get to some nice dinners in the Cathedral cyp restaurant with the odd business meeting attached.

It is a good experience to stand up in the pulpit of such a vast and famous church, and you are invited to attend and be part of it.

All are welcome to attend and enjoy the music at least!.
