DIARY FOR JULY	36

EDITORIAL

You are all very welcome to our July edition of Magna. As regular readers will know we tend to write this in every edition, but in this 36 page July Magna we truly have some really informative and interesting articles.

As promised news of our recent parish visit to Germany with articles by Jill Marsh and Clare Johnson. In the August Magna we will bring you firsthand accounts of our parish pilgrimage to the Saint Albans Festival. In the mean time, Annelise Surry's 'St. Alban' pilgrimage leads her to her home town of Cologne, Germany.

And of course there's a lot more reading in this bumper edition.

Have a great summer.

MAGNA IS PUBLISHED ON OUR PARISH WEBSITE:

There is still time to enter our short-story challenge, to be published in the August Magna.

Thanks to every one who has contributed to this month's magazine. Please contribute an article soon. It's your magazine.

The editorial committee welcomes contributions for Magna from all members of the congregation. The deadline for the August issue is Sunday 13th July. Want to write for Magna? No problem, just get in touch. Contributions may be sent by e-mail, placed in the Magna pigeon hole in the New Church, or handed to a member of the editorial committee:
